'A way to get intimate with the bewitching waterways of the Vembanad Lake in the Heartland of Kerala.'

"The Spice Coast Cruises give you a taste of a unique way of life that was extant in these parts. You get to journey upon a 'Kettuvalam', a traditional houseboat, that was once used to carry cargoes of rice and spices up and down these same waterways for centuries. The service and food onboard also faithfully capture a dying tradition of the backwaters for you to sample first hand."

The Spice Coast Cruises are centered around the 90km of expanse of Vembanad Lake. It is the large inland lake on the backwaters of Kerala with a unique (but fragile) ecosystem unlike any other water body in the world. The lake is home to many species of fauna and flora, a lot of which can be spotted on the cruise. It is also home to thousands of humans who live along its edges and are sustained by it in numerous ways.
